Registration: 12:45pm

Program: 12:55 – 5:30pm

Location: Zoom

Event #73924so

Program Description: This webinar will explore ways that individuals, family members, and professionals can prepare older adults to live safely, independently, and comfortably at home and in community as they age. The educational activity will expand the concept of aging in place to encompass aging in community. Preparing to maximize well-being while aging requires much more than installing ramps and handrails. The participant will learn how to plan for aging in place, regardless of financial circumstances. The speaker will provide information about several aspects of aging in place, such as living arrangements, safety, home modifications, technology, and affordability.

Target Audience

Occupational Therapists, Occupational Therapy Assistants, Physical Therapists, Physical Therapy Assistants, Case Managers, Counselors, Community Health Workers, Caregivers and others who work with older adults

Objectives

At the conclusion of this educational activity, participants should be able to:

1. Discuss various aspects of aging in place, including the concept of aging in community.
2. Describe available housing options and living arrangements.
3. Identify resources available to support aging in place and aging in community.
4. Name steps individuals can take to support aging in place and aging in community.

Speaker

Alison Climo, MSW, PhD

Senior Community Engagement Specialist in Aging
Center for Aging & Adult Research and Educational Services (CARES)
UNC School of Social Work
