

WAKE AHEC

PART OF NC AHEC

Library Services

How the Wake AHEC Medical Library can help you...

Ways to Make a Request

1. Online:

<https://www.wakeahec.org/library.htm>

2. Email:

medlibrary@wakemed.org

3. Phone: Monday – Friday (9 AM – 5 PM)

919.350.8529

Library Services

AHEC Digital Library (ADL)

Request an ADL Account

Request a Literature Search

Article Request

Ask A Librarian

Fees for Library Services

Wake AHEC Library Services

Links for Request a Literature Search and Article Request are available on the left-side of the Wake AHEC Library Services home page. There is also a link to Request an ADL Account.

<https://www.wakeahec.org/library.htm>

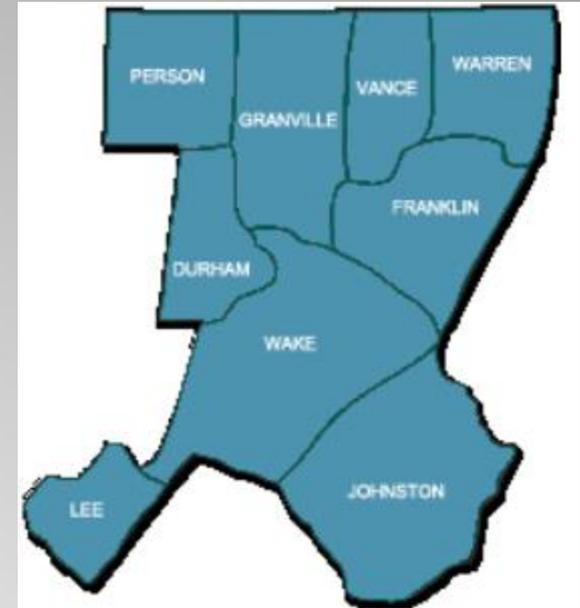

Reference Services

Short on time? Library Services can help you locate specific answers or information related to health care questions. We can also provide evidence-based literature searches and/or articles on specific topics.

Literature Searches

- This is a free service provided to healthcare professionals located in the nine-county region supported by Wake AHEC.
- Literature searches may be requested by calling the library, emailing the library, or by filling out the Request a Literature Search online form from the library's website.
- Search areas include (but are not limited to): Medicine, Nursing, Patient Information, and Healthcare Administration.
- Results will be emailed and will include selected free, full-text articles that are found during the search process (if available).
- Please allow at least 48 business hours for delivery, or call 919.350.8529 for RUSH requests.

Interlibrary

(ILL)

&

Document Delivery

Article Requests

- Most journal articles are accessible via the AHEC Digital Library (ADL). If so, same-day service is usually applicable, and articles are emailed.
- If articles are ordered via interlibrary loan (ILL), other libraries fill our requests and it may take 1-3 business days for delivery. The lending library may also charge a small fee, so these costs would be passed along to the patron. You would be notified of any costs before an ILL order is placed.

AHEC Digital Library (ADL)

- Is a portal to AHEC library services, information, and education
- Ensures that all providers in the state have high-quality health information readily available through a variety of membership categories, ranging from access to free resources to paid subscriptions
- Provides access to full-text journals, books, and electronic databases of the literature, as well as links to carefully evaluated health information websites and clinical and educational tools

AHEC Digital Library (ADL)

NORTH CAROLINA
AHEC
DIGITAL LIBRARY

AHEC librarians helping North Carolina health professionals in every county.

Site Search

About | Databases | Journals | Books | Health Topics | Continuing Professional Development | Patient Education | Services

Top Resources Used | Browse Health Topics

Databases

- PubMed Medline
- CINAHL
- Up-to-Date
- Lexi-Comp (on site access at WakeMed only)
- MEDLINE 1946 - present

Journals

- New England Journal of Medicine
- American Journal of Nursing
- JAMA
- Critical Care Medicine
- Journal for Nurses in Professional Development

Books

- Red Book®: 2018-2021 Report of the Committee on Infectious Diseases - 31st Ed. (2018)
- STAT!Ref
- Collection of Textbooks
- Handbook on Injectable Drugs
- Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders DSM-5
- 5-Minute Clinical Consult

ADL News

Highlighted Article:
Care of the Transgender Patient

What do healthcare providers need to know in order to offer appropriate and culturally competent care to the transgender population?

A recent article in the Annals of Internal Medicine answers this question, discussing the health disparities faced by transgender persons, defining key terminology, and suggesting approaches and treatment options that healthcare providers can use when providing care to transgender patients.

To learn more, check out the highlighted article of the month!
Safer JD, Tangpricha V. Care of the Transgender Patient. Ann Intern Med. 2019;171:ITC1-ITC16. doi: 10.7326/AITC201907020

Freely available FierceHealthcare summary of the article:
Finnegan, J. (2019, July 2). ACP issues guide to help primary care doctors care for transgender patients. FierceHealthcare.

July Opioid Article of the Month:
Leveraging Medicaid To Combat The Opioid Epidemic:
How Leader States And Health Plans Deliver Evidence-Based Treatment

WAKE AHEC
PART OF NC AHEC

Library Links

- ABOG Readings
- NEJM's Journal Watch

Login to Your Account
Forgot username or password?

Request Account

Ask a Question

Ask your AHEC Librarian how we can help you

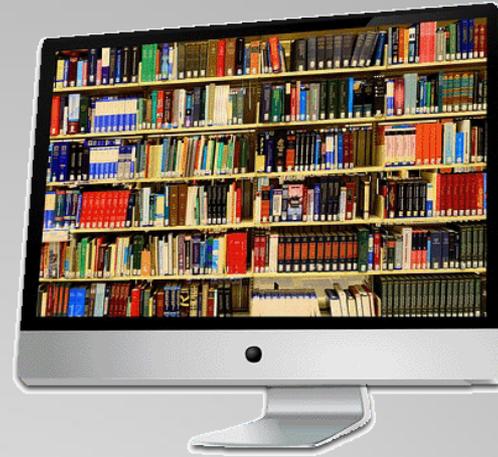

Having trouble finding an article?

Your librarian can help you!

<https://library.ncahec.net>

Training & Consultations

- We provide instruction in the use of library services, finding resources, and in literature searching to individuals or groups upon request.
- One-on-one sessions can be scheduled in advance OR simple search techniques and strategies can be taught over the phone.

Contact Library Services

Online: <https://www.wakeahec.org/library.htm>

Email: medlibrary@wakemed.org

Phone: 919.350.8529

Karen Stafford, MLS
Associate Director
kstafford@wakeahec.org

919.350.0486

Jessica Todd, MLIS
Project Coordinator
jetodd@wakeahec.org

919.350.0475